Mr. Jandali,

I don't give out compliments easily; but I will give a compliment when it's deserved. VR Business Brokers was instrumental in the purchase of my new business venture and you certainly deserve recognition.

I want to express our sincere thanks to you and your VR team for providing top quality expertise through the entire purchase process. Through your personal attention each step of the way -- from the contract offer to the selling price negotiations, business research and closing -- we had comfort in knowing that all the necessary steps were considered and all required actions were executed."

I'm more than satisfied with the end result and will recommend your company to others.

Respectfully,

David Wilcox
